

Duty to Manage Asbestos Training

Bradley Environmental is one of the UK's most respected UKATA Approved Asbestos Training providers with over 25 years of industry experience.

April 2015 sees the launch of our new asbestos training course - Duty to Manage Asbestos.

Who is it for?

Our new Duty to Manage Asbestos training course is directed at those who manage non-domestic premises, and have a responsibility for protecting the people who work in such premises, from the risks to ill health that exposure to asbestos causes.

Aims

By the end of the course delegates should have an understanding of:

- Discuss the hazards of Asbestos and where it is found
- Their responsibilities with regards to The Duty to Manage Asbestos
- How to prioritise asbestos and create an action plan
- The requirements for and how to use asbestos surveys and registers
- The purpose for and content of an asbestos management plan
- The different asbestos removal and remediation projects
- The different types of asbestos training

Course content

- Asbestos Awareness (refresher)
- Legislative requirements
- Defining The Duty to Manage Asbestos
- Types, risks and locations of asbestos containing materials (ACMs)
- The survey report, register and their use
- Dealing with your ACMs
- Information, instruction and training
- Record, review and key points
- End of course examination
